四、閱讀測驗

Left-hander or Right-hander?

Are you left-handed? If so, did your childhood friends laugh at you? Did your parents tell you to use your right hand? Did you have tools that felt strange when you used them? Most people (about 87%-90%) are right-handed, so many people have a stereotype that left-handed people are different, even strange.

Almost every culture thinks that the left-handed means negativity or worthlessness. In English, the word “left” itself comes from an ancient word for “worthless” or “weak.” In many cultures, people will use the left hand to do something about death. And in some cultures, like India, the left hand is thought to be dirty and not to be used for eating.

In America, right-handed people live to an average age of 75, but left-handers die at an average age of 66. In accident, left-handed people die nearly six times more than right-handed people. It seems that living in a right-handers’ world really is a disadvantage for left-handers. So left-handers, be careful!

Motion Sickness: Tips for the traveler

Picture this- You're on your way to the mountains. You get your bus ticket. You're ready for the trip. The first part of the trip goes well. You leave the city. The scenery begins to change and the road starts getting more narrow and curvier. You start to sweat. Perhaps you get a headache. You want to throw up. You want to get off the bus. What's the matter with you? You have experienced motion sickness- it may happen when you travel by car, bus, boat, or train.

PREVENTION

- Try to travel in the front seat and look at the road ahead.
- Do not eat or drink just before traveling.
- Sit still or lie down if there is room.
- Don't read or use your phone.
- Try not to sit near smokers.
- Take motion sickness medicine 30 minutes before traveling.

TREATMENT

- Put a few drops of peppermint oil on a handkerchief, and smell it if you don't feel well.
- Eat a piece of fresh ginger root.
- Use your right fingers to massage your left wrist for one minute while taking deep breaths.

Then do the same on the other wrist.
