(第 39-40 題)

What do you do with your food waste? Just put it in the trash can? Every year, there is over 9,000,000,000 tons of food waste in the world. We don't have enough place for food waste. Burning it is also not a good way. Some experts in Japan have a new idea about this problem.

The new idea is changing the food waste into buildings. We can make a new concrete with a lot of food, like bananas or coffee. Besides, the new concrete is stronger than the old one. Building houses with the new concrete can also reduce food waste. What a great idea! Maybe many years later, we all live in an edible house!
