Spiders spin webs. They do so because webs help spiders do three things. Webs help spiders hold eggs, hide, and catch food. Many spiders like to lay eggs in their webs. The webs help to keep the eggs together and safe. Webs also help spiders hide. Spiders are brown, black, or gray. Most of them are dark, but spider webs are white and not clear, and they are light. When spiders hide in their webs, they are not easy to be seen. What is more, webs are sticky and can help spiders catch food. When a bug flies into the web, it gets stuck. The bug wants to get out, so it moves around. But there is no way for the bug to get out because it is trapped. Spiders can tell that the bug is trapped because they feel the web move. And when the spider is hungry, it goes to get the bug. As you can see, spiders cannot do without webs. They need their webs so that they can live!
