D . Remember When....., A Woman's Monologue

Remember when the shops had everything you wanted every time?

Remember when kids went to school?

Remember when people didn't cross the street if they saw you coming, like you might be carrying some kind of plague?

Remember when you could go out for a meal anytime or for a cup of coffee with a friend?

It seems like only yesterday. Hard to believe it was six whole weeks ago.

Dinner tonight was spaghetti, without the spaghetti because there was no pasta. A few small potatoes and some limp lettuce. I told the kids to eat up and be happy, lots of people would be thankful to have it. Who was I kidding? It tasted like crap.

Oh and on that subject, try not to take one. We're down to our last half roll of toilet paper.

Thank God they still have alcohol, when that runs out we really are all failed.

So turn off the computer for a minute, the numbers are still growing, trust me.

Fill a large glass. Sit back.

And remember when...

Dear all from class 901,

Today is our graduation day. First, I would like to thank our teacher, Mrs. Lin. She expected so much from us and pushed us to become excellent. What's more, she didn't allow us to make excuses and asked us to be honest because she said that would lead to many problems. I am so thankful for her. She's the best teacher in the world, isn't she? As for you, my classmates, thanks for all the memories of the past three years. We laughed, we cried, and sometimes we fought. Let's cherish our happy memories together. Our future is in our own hands.

Believe in yourself. Don't let others define you. Let's live life to the full. Happy graduation!

Love,
Patty
