Albert: Who was the old man in the picture?
 Owen: He was my grandfather. When I was 6 years old, my parents were busy with work. He took care of me. He always cooked breakfast for me and walked me to school. When I came home from school, we sometimes took a walk at the park. When I studied at my desk, he prepared snacks for me. I had many happy memories with him.
 Albert: Where is he now?
 Owen: He passed away a few years ago. I was really sad then.
 Albert: I am sorry about that.
 Owen: It's OK. I put his picture on my desk, so that I can see him every day. Every year on Tomb Sweeping Day, I place flowers around his tomb, prepare his favorite food, and burn a lot of paper money for him. I hope he can be happy in another world.
 Albert: That's so sweet of you.

(At Susan's house)

Andy: How was your trip to England?

Susan: It was great! I visited the British Museum, one of the world's famous museum.

Andy: Did you also go to Leavesden to visit Harry Potter Studio?

Susan: No, I didn't. I didn't have enough time to go there. Maybe next time.

Andy: I see. So are these the pictures you took in Landon?

Susan: Right. I'm picking a picture for my pen friend, but I just can't decide which is the best.

Andy: Let me see ... How about this one?

Susan: Why do you like it?

Andy: Don't you think you look more beautiful in it?

Susan: Really?

Andy: A book I just read says that the left side of our faces works harder than our right face.
 So the left face looks more beautiful.

Susan: I see. And that's why Leonardo da Vinci painted Mona Lisa that way!
