Have you ever woken up at night but can't move your body? You tried to shout, but no sound came out. Don't be scared. There is nothing about ghosts. Maybe you are just having sleep paralysis.

< What is sleep paralysis? >

During sleep, your body changes between REM (rapid eye movement) and NREM (non-rapid eye movement) sleep. One cycle of REM and NREM sleep is about 90 mins. NREM sleep happens first and takes 75% of your sleep time. During NREM sleep, your body is relaxed. After NREM, your body changes to REM sleep. Your eyes move quickly and you start to dream, but other parts of your body are still relaxed. If you wake up before REM sleep ends, you may find out that you can't move or speak. That's sleep paralysis.
